

9.20

PS26

a. XSS attack is a type of injection, in which malicious scripts are injected into otherwise benign and trusted websites. XSS attack occurs when someone use a web application to send attacking code. Generally in the form of browser side script. (Directed to different user from textbook)

b. HTTP Protocol let server check the referer of Page address obtain the URL of the Page. B

9.25

The website send digital certificate to user's browser. then the user have the public key to decrypt certificate and see what he requests then the user use the public key for decryption.

